OfficeSpace Software Launches Partnership in Dubai with Langmead Associates

NEW YORK, May 17, 2010 – OfficeSpace Software is pleased to announce a partnership with Bahrain and Dubai based Langmead Associates. OfficeSpace, an innovative move management and workspace allocation application will be featured at the Dubai FM Expo May 18-20 along with Langmead Associates in Hall 8, Stand 50. Designed to be intuitive and efficient, OfficeSpace’s web-based interface and drag-and-drop capabilities make it easy for administrative assistants, office managers and facility professionals to allocate workspaces, schedule moves and generate the necessary reports to run their operations easily.

“We are very excited to be working with Langmead Associates to open up the Middle East region for our products” said David Spence, Director of Business Development for OfficeSpace. “Langmead has a proven track record in the industry and in the region of providing high quality, innovative services to a wide variety of clients and OfficeSpace will enhance their product offerings for their clients. Having someone on the ground in this market was key for us, and Langmead has risen to the challenge.” The OfficeSpace platform avoids the expensive and cumbersome structure of other IWMS and CAFM systems that are often underutilized, and instead focuses on the core features needed by the majority of users. “When OfficeSpace first approached us, we were really impressed with their innovative platform and functionality” said Mark Wilcock, Director of Langmead’s Facility Division (www.langmeadassociates.com). “It is a perfect complement to our existing services, and strengthens our place in the market. We know our clients will really appreciate it”.
